What Residents Are Saying

Pa P.

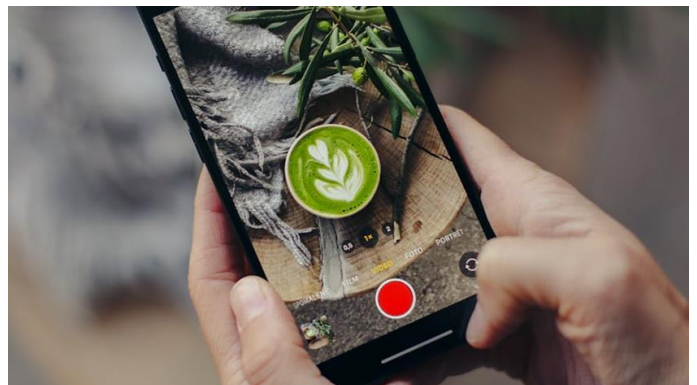

"I have been on the hunt for an apartment in LA for a cross-country move from NYC. I've probably visited over 20 buildings in various neighborhoods, trying to find a place that felt like home with the right amenities.

From the moment I first spoke with her on the phone and throughout the application process, Meagan, the Assistant Business Manager, has been a complete delight to work with!"

Los Angeles Auto Show

Los Angeles residents take pride in claiming their city as the "car capital of the world." Annually, the L.A. Auto Show highlights this influence by uniting car enthusiasts at the L.A. Convention Center for a 10-day event dedicated to all things automotive. Originating in 1907 with just 99 vehicles, the show now spans over 760,000 square feet, showcasing creations from various global and local car manufacturers. Visitors can enjoy indoor and outdoor test drives, view celebrity car collections, and partake in other unique activities.
